Performance Notes

We're going to move up the fretboard a little to play this one, hence using the 2nd finger to play the G and 3rd finger to play the G# in bar 1.

Also in bar 1, there is the terminology "BII" above the B and E notes. This means you're going to flatten your 1st finger across the 4th and 5th strings (at the same time) in order to play them.

Bars 5-6 adopt the same ideas as bars 1 and 3, except that we're moving everything across a string.

To play the note B in bar 6, play the 3rd string, 4th fret. This is the same as the open B string and something we'll talk more about in Guitar Quest 3!
